Hokusai

got this PICTURE?

Where lightest mist envelops Jap Dude in seesaw cape…
straw thing. Muncey’s own

Joe-Jack Colley shoves open his golf umbrella into rainy fog. It’s almost fluorescent in a leany shaft of wet light. Anyway,

weather doesn't know if it should rain or fog but finally makes its mind up. Does both at once or something.

Off the bridge, he closes the umbrella as he passes a rusting car where bums piss usually.

Must hold it till he gets to her dealership. “The Dutchess.”

The straw cape awaits something too.
Some Jap thing.

Two mists descend:
Muncey,Yokohama.

It’s the same one.
